John Francis to Nicholas Brown, Philadelphia, 11 November 1787 (excerpts)

Politics are the only topics in all companies. Tories were never detested with half the zeal that Antifederalists are now. And there needs no greater confirmation of a villain than an opposition to the favorite government...