Sunday night last, some person or persons yet unknown, set fire to the prison at New Kent courthouse, after which they proceeded to the Clerk's Office, (about two miles distant from the prison) and set fire to that also, which contained all the papers, records, &c. belonging to the county, and burnt both to the ground.

Original source: Commentaries on the Constitution, Volume XIII: Commentaries on the Constitution, No. 1