Pennsylvania Herald, 17 October 1787

It is reported, that the citizens of Virginia have expressed the most pointed disapprobation of the conduct of those delegates to the convention who have refused to concur in the new plan of government. Notwithstanding the popular clamour however, we find that in many of the states persons avowedly inimical to that work, have been chosen members of the different legislatures. In New-York the prevailing politics support the principles of the governor [George Clinton], and in Maryland Mr. [Samuel] Chase has surmounted every opposition to his election.
