A Laconick EPILOGUE,

To be spoken at the grave of Antifederalism.

Here lies inter'd three feet deep,
Antifederalism!—pray do not weep,
Why need you weep, it's no such matter
That you shou'd now his grave bespatter,
For in his life, he did no good
And now he's gone, he's only food
For worms that eats his artis' out,
And make him take another rout,
So fare you well, antifed'ral.

A Toast for the New-Hampshire FEDERALISTS.

Long life, health, strength, peace and prosperity.

For the ANTIFEDERALISTS.

May they be shun'd as an adder or poisonous snake, fit for no Company but brutes.
